

your town has expertise that cannot make it to council meetings.

When highly skilled citizens have demanding jobs, they cannot contribute to the community on a traditional schedule.

Trokt Tracker increases access to government for its citizens by helping a city:

- put local laws, regulations, and policies in the palm of each citizen's hand,
- enable asynchronous collaboration on policies and resolutions among under-engaged communities,
- ensure transparency around contracting and procurement efforts,
- receive and track issues submitted by citizens that require resolution so nothing gets lost,
- avoid or reduce public safety and social care costs by addressing issues using alternative dispute resolution tools and techniques, and
- develop transparent and accessible action plans for implementing agreed resolutions,

So you can represent all of your citizens, all of the time.

Trokt allows your city government to track the history of any ordinance, regulation, or policy – ensuring that everyone is aware of every update.

Trokt Tracker makes all public documents easily accessible to the wider community...

...lets anyone submit issues or suggestions...

...and ensures that any work based on the submission is tracked in a simple, safe, and secure manner that enables an inclusive path towards resolution.

Once model language is developed and ready, any community work product can be quickly inserted back by city staff.
